Our Sterling Silver Anniversary Show & Party!

Kiki Ebsen is an accomplished singer, songwriter and pianist who has accompanied Christopher Cross, Wilson Phillips, Boz Scaggs, Tracy Chapman, Chicago, Al Jarreau and many more. She has released five solo records, the latest of which is a collection of jazz standards inspired by songs from her dad Buddy Ebsen's life and career. Kiki started playing piano as a child. Picking up melodies effortlessly by ear, she began composing her own songs at an early age. Kiki's songs have been covered by Boney James, Eric Marienthal and Jessy J. Her TV credits include performances with Take Six, Blake Shelton, Glen Campbell, Michelle Branch, Dolly Parton, Lee Ann Womack, Gloria Estefan, Kenny Loggins, Melissa Etheridge, Patty Griffin and many more. "Kiki is a sleeping giant in contemporary music, who deserves to be heard." - Steve Quirk. Get to know her better at www.KikiEbsen.com.

The Sweet Potatoes Laura Hall and Kelly Macleod started making music together after Kelly starred in Slice Of Pie, a movie written by Laura's husband Rick Hall. Their collaboration on the film led them to form The Sweet Potatoes. Laura Hall is probably best known as the improvisational pianist on television's Whose Line Is It Anyway. She has also recorded several solo albums and has written music and scores for films. Kelly Macleod was the lead singer for the band Private Life, which opened for Van Halen and Eddie Money and headlined in Japan. Two of Kelly's songs can be heard in the movies Wayne's World and Gremlins 2. Rick Hall has been in countless television shows, films and commercials. He loves to write and tell stories about growing up on a farm, one of which he turned into Slice Of Pie. More at www.TheSweetPotatoes.com
